

ECP + ENERGY COMMITTEE

The US-China Energy Cooperation Program (ECP) acts as a public-private-partnership platform to bridge governments with the private sector to advance sustainable development and facilitate commercial cooperation on clean energy, energy efficiency, environment protection and green finance sectors. ECP's 2022 strategic plan is grouped around three types of activities: Advocacy, Business, and Community (ABCs) for energy sector.

Committee Priorities: Advocacy-High Business-High (information sharing) Community-High (networking)

MISSION

To advance collaboration between China and the United States and internationally on clean energy, energy efficiency, and environment sector issues.

MAIN ACTIVITIES

- Events (workshops/conferences/seminars)
- Business outreach (overseas, provincial, and sub-national visits)
- Pilot project promotion

MEMBER PROFILE

There are 20 ECP members, plus 30+ companies in energy-related areas in the Energy Committee, who are focusing on:

- Adopting cleaner energy
- Improving energy efficiency
- Expanding environmental protection
